Greetings!

Hope you had a very enjoyable and relaxing Labor Day!

Lot of interesting things coming up as we head into Fall. I also hope to meet with more potential distributors.

We have an awesome line-up of over 30 EPA-approved safe and eco-friendly industrial cleaning products for the maritime, industrial and soil industries.

If you know of anyone interested in becoming a distributor for one of the leading environmentally-sustainable companies in the world, I would appreciate you giving me their contact information or vice versa.

If you have any questions, just give me a shout at 919-740-0546!

John

Graffiti-Ink-Adhesive Remover

Our Jackhammer Graffiti product has recently seen increased traction in several markets including industrial and automotive applications.

This is due to the fact that many companies are looking more closely at respiratory issues, especially in older/retired employees and starting to understand the long-term benefits to employees of using safe, bio-based products.

JackHammer™ is part of the innovative "Pure Green" product line that was developed to save the environment by producing natural, sustainable materials that provide a cleaner, greener alternative to the harmful solvents, chemicals and additive currently used today. All JackHammer products are 100% biobased, biodegradable, non-toxic and composed in whole of biological products and renewable natural resources (including plant, animal, and marine materials) or forestry materials.

Product Comparison: Absorbents come in many forms, and Diatomaceous earth and Perlite are two such forms that are typically used for the same applications as SAP+. They differ from SAP+ as they will never biodegrade or break down. If an absorbent cannot be broken down, it makes senseless use of precious landfill resources.
